CRISIS IN GERMAN GOVERNMENT

VOTERS OF ENGLAND ELECTING MEMBERS OF NEW PARLIAMENT

BABY CARRIED TO THE POLLS TO VOTE

LONDON Nov 15—A baby 23 months old will be carried by its mother to the polls at Barrow today to cast a vote in the parliamentary elections. The infant was one of many whose name appeared through errors in the list of registered voters.

By Associated Press
LONDON Nov 15—The electorate of Great Britain swarmed to the polls by the millions today in England Scotland Wales and Ulster to elect the fourth parliament of the reign of King George V. The polls opened at 8 o'clock and by 9 o'clock tonight the new house of commons will have been selected.

No eleventh hour development has lessened the uncertainty of the result. The few prophets who venture forecasts tie strings to their predictions. It is therefore something of a surprise to the public that Prime Minister Bonar Law in his final speech at Glasgow yesterday discarded his native caution and declared that he had "very considerable confidence that the electors would give him a working majority on which he can depend."

He made it clear that he would be dissatisfied with anything less than independent unionist majority.

Cambiers betting on the election results in the London insurance market yesterday had to pay a rate which indicated that a majority of conservatives and independent unionists over all other parties was regarded as almost certain, but the odds were 7 to 2 against the expectation that conservatives would get a majority of eighty or more.

The morning papers today earnestly appeal to the electors to exercise their franchises and take nothing for granted. The anti labor newspapers express considerable fear of apathy among the electorate.

At the last parliamentary elections it was estimated only about 60 per cent of the electors went to the polls.

Opponents of labor fear that unless more energy is displayed to-day laborites will benefit since their organization is believed to be very complete. From the unionist newspapers come the earnest cry "Whatever you do, don't vote labor."

Lloyd-George too is strong in his opposition to the laborite program. I am looking forward to the return of men of progressive ideas as a bulwark against reaction of the one hand and revolutionary experimentation on the other, said a message from a little Welshman who only a few years ago was the prime minister of Great Britain.

MEXICO PROTESTS ALLEGED LYNCHING ASKS GUARANTEES

CHARGE MEXICAN WAS REMOVED FROM JAIL AT WESLACO, TEXAS

COMMUNICATION SENT TO STATE DEPARTMENT

Officials of Texas Probably Will Be Asked for Full Information

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON Nov 15—The Mexican embassy has made representations to the state department against the alleged lynching of a Mexican Elias Villereal Zarate at Weslaco Texas last Saturday and asking guarantees for the Mexican consul at Hidalgo Texas whose life is said to have been threatened.

According to the embassy's advices Zarate was put in jail after a fight with an American and then was taken out still in hell the authorities afterwards refusing a request of the Mexican consul that an investigation be made.

In its representation the Mexican embassy is understood to point out that in the last few months several Mexicans have been killed in Texas with responsibility or complicity of the authorities. Finally the embassy asks guarantees for the safety not only of the consular but of other Mexicans in Texas.

The embassy's communication was taken under consideration by the state department and state officials of Texas probably will be asked for full information to form the basis of whatever reply may be formulated. It is customary to refer all such matters to state officials with requests that charges be fully investigated and a report made to the state department. That course has been followed in connection with similar incidents with Mexican citizens in Texas threatened or attacked and without such an investigation the federal officials would have no knowledge which would permit them to formulate answers. So far as known there is no official report in Washington on the Weslaco case.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED IN TWO PROVINCES CHILE

ACTION RESULT OF LOOTING ON THE PART OF BANDITS

MANY SMALL INLAND VILLAGES ARE DESTROYED

More Than Fifteen Hundred Victims Are Accounted for in Two Provinces

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Nov. 15—As President Alessandri left today to visit the zone devastated by Saturday's earthquake and tidal wave, lists of those killed in the catastrophe came in over the restored telegraph lines from many points, giving poignant reality to the disaster. While the official figures on the dead from the calamity received at the ministry of the interior making the total slightly under 900, had not been added to up to this afternoon, unofficial estimates of the fatalities still ran as high as 2,000.

By Associated Press
SANTIAGO CHILE Nov 15—Scarcely a house remains standing in the Vallenar valley in northern Chile as the result of the earthquakes and marine disturbances last week. The full extent of the disaster which centered upon the provinces of Atacama and Coquimbo became more fully known today with the reopening of telegraph communication with north Chile.

In these two provinces the dead now number 1,500 so far as known but it is expected the number of dead will be substantially increased when communications are resumed with many small villages in the interior.

Dispatches today from La Serena told of serious damage which the earthquakes inflicted upon the Toponilla mines.

Martial law has been declared at Vallenar and in Copiapo owing to the looting which bandits have been perpetrating among the distressed population. The bandits are believed for the most part to be prisoners who escaped from the jails.

The removal of debris in the affected regions has been started with the help of soldiers. Eighty per cent of the telegraphs are down and the others are greatly damaged. Soldiers are patrolling the towns by day and the police by night. The state of siege is being maintained.

Inland Villages Destroyed.

Many small inland villages near Copiapo were destroyed. San Esteban is in ruins. Twenty three persons were killed there. At the village of Terra Amarilla four persons are dead and half the town is in ruins. At San Antonio seven are dead and the town is a wreck. Casualties so far reported from Copiapo number the dead at 40 and the injured at 110.

Travelers arriving from Chanarcillo a mining town in the province of Atacama say the earthquake was felt there with great intensity. The shocks opened deep fissures in the hills and caused frightful losses.

The correspondent of the newspaper Mercurio who has arrived at Copiapo says that when the earthquake was first felt there Friday night the eastern sky was illuminated by huge red flames of great intensity. The tremors continued intermittently all night and Saturday morning. Just before midnight Sunday another prolonged quake was felt and it was repeated intermittently until daybreak Monday. During the tremors young girls at a convent and school jumped out of the windows. Many of them were seriously injured when the second floor sagged down.

The hospital and prison at Copiapo are in ruins but the prisoners and sick escaped uninjured. Prisoners guilty of slight offenses were freed. Several prisoners broke jail.

JAPANESE HAVE VITAL INTEREST IN ISSUE OF TURKISH CAPITULATIONS

By Associated Press

LAUSANNE, Nov 15—Japan like the United States has a vital interest in the question of Turkish capitulations state it is considered at the near eastern peace conference here next week sweeping denunciation of the capitulations which are extra territorial rights granted to foreigners in Turkey and which the new nationalist government in that country wants abolished would affect Japanese plans for the extension of economic relations with Turkey

There seems to be a general idea that the whole subject is too vast and of such portentous importance that it cannot be settled at Lausanne Some of the advance delegates to the conference mention the possibility of appointing a permanent international commission to study ways and means for gradually abolishing the capitulations In something like the same manner the Washington conference handled the matter of Chinese capitulations and the accompanying question of customs and tariffs

During the transitional period it has been suggested that commercial treaties could be framed and put into operation between Turkey and the various countries trading in that land.

VERNON ROTARIANS HAVE INTERESTING LUNCHEON TUESDAY

VERNON, TEXAS, Nov. 15.—The Rotary club had a very interesting meeting at the luncheon at the Bailey hotel Tuesday noon. Tuesday is the regular day for the Vernon Rotary meeting and yesterday's meeting was well attended. Of the 29 members only four were absent. W. N. Stokes who was in Wichita Falls on legal business Joe Sumner who was in Electra on business and Bob Farrell and Jim Leak both being detained on account of unavoidable matters.

After the regular luncheon Owen Branson introduced his guest, Mr Stafford of Dallas, who made a short talk. Eb Dphoney introduced his guest, Dr. E. L. Moore, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who spoke on the high school Bible work. He stated that of the 326 pupils in the high school 200 were taking the Bible courses offered at the various churches which meets each Monday morning at 8 o'clock. He states that one of his pupils, a young lady, had made the remark that the Bible study was the most interesting study she had. Dr. Moore stated further that the church doctrine was not being taught in these classes as he thought the Bible was too good, too deep and too grand to start the young student out with church doctrine before he knew anything of the Bible. However, he stated that an additional course will be given in the fundamentals of the Presbyterian church after the regular school course had closed. He further stated that his native state, Alabama, was the only state in the Union that has compulsory Bible study in its public schools and that no teacher could draw money from the state treasury for teaching school who had not taught their students the Bible.

The last speaker on the program was Dr J. E. Dodson, who delivered a very interesting address on control of cancer.

Moon Contributes To Chilean Quake Is Opinion Given

SANTA CLARA, CAL., Nov. 15.—Although sun spots had something to do with the disastrous earthquake and tidal waves in Chile, the moon also was a contributing factor, in the opinion of Father J. S. Brand of the observatory of Santa Clara university.

"In our observatory we have always held that great sun spots coming central are a partial cause of earthquakes," said Father Brand. "When the Chilean earthquake occurred a great sun spot issued at latitude six degrees south, was in latitude to strike the earth. For more a stiff breeze will be of use

Chewing Gum and Natural Gas

"As a matter of public policy—to state the facts in their boldest form—we are encouraging the manufacture of chewing gum and discouraging the provision of electric light and power." Natural gas, too.

This statement by Samuel O. Dunn in the North American Review furnishes material for straight thinking. If it be true, aren't we big enough to correct our policy?

Here is his reasoning:

Discouraging Development

"We jumped to the utterly fallacious conclusions that the only way to make sure their (public utilities) rates always would be reasonable was to restrict their net returns as much as the courts would allow.

"As a result of the legally sound, but economically unsound, distinction that we make between concerns which do and concerns which do not render a public service, we are directly encouraging the development of many industries which are highly desirable but relatively non-essential, and directly discouraging the development of industries which are absolutely essential."

Unshakable Law

Fair regulation of service and rates is most desirable. But that mistaken policy that discourages investment and holds down returns to a mere going rate checks development, restricts service and hurts the community.

An unshakable economic law provides that people get just what they are willing to pay for, and this willingness governs the character of the service. A rate on natural gas that enables the maintenance of good service is absolutely essential. Anything less than that inconveniences the consumer and eventually compels him to pay a higher rate.

FASHIONS

By LENORE

Lace was once said of lace when in doubt, use ribbon. Some of the most attractive frocks shown by the leading designers, both in Paris and in New York, emphasized ribbons as a medium for trimming. Two of the cleverest frocks created by Lanvin used ribbons in graceful streamers like the idea illustrated in the sketch. One is a suggestion from a black taffeta frock whose body was long and tight trimmed with a deep bertha of silver lace and a plaque of blue red and violet roses with the streamers of silver ribbon. The other frock was of white taffeta a similar body, but the ribbons were distributed in six loops and long ends across the entire front of the skirt.

The other two suggestions in the sketch illustrate how a crepe frock may be a gainer by the addition of shirred or pleated ribbon

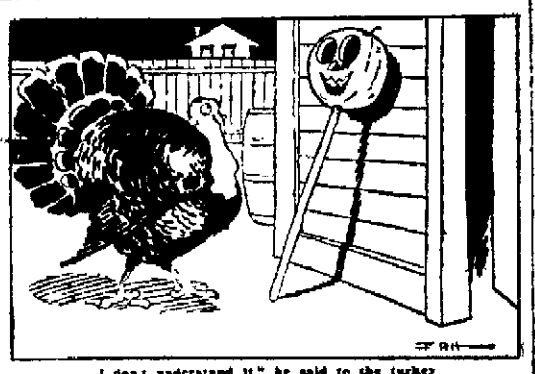
ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

JACK O'LANTERN'S GRIEF

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON



"I don't understand it" he said to the turkey

Jack O'Lantern was leaping down out the barn He was unhappy and dejected in spite of the fact that the corners of his mouth turned up in a grin showing two rows of enormous teeth

"I don't understand" he said to the turkey For awhile I was the most important person around every night the children put a candle in me and carried me around on a broomstick and scared the whole neighborhood and not but we had the fun

"Yes I know" gobbled the turkey sympathetically "I used to be jealous of you getting all the attention It just shows how fickle people are and how soon they tire of their friends

"Well you don't need to be jealous now" spoke up Jack O'Lantern with spirit. "The whole family have taken grown quite fond of you Must be feeds on enough corn to make you burst, and Mistress [illegible] a dozen times a day My but that turkey is getting fat As for [illegible] looks to see how thin I am getting I feel all gone in [illegible]

Jack O'Lantern sighed such an [illegible] that he fell over on the ground and his head rolled off [illegible] broomstick [illegible] Now I am [illegible] he cried weakly "No [illegible] will ever see me here [illegible] a voice asked "Does anyone know where we can find Mr Jack O'Lantern

"Goodness" thought Jack O'Lantern "I must be of some importance after all Somebody hasn't forgotten me I wonder who it is Here I am" he called as loudly as he could. "Who wants me?"

Nancy and Nick came Nancy's sweet voice "We're looking for Mother Goose's broom Did you see

Every night I had an adventure with the children"

Nick pointed over Jack O'Lantern's head [illegible] the barn [illegible] bushes

"Oh thank you" remarked Jack O'Lantern gratefully "I was just going from the [illegible] to tell that I couldn't [illegible] and the world Its a queer place [illegible] sight [illegible]

"What [illegible] asked Nancy [illegible] with that [illegible] smile in your face

"Well I'm not answered Jack O'Lantern Last week I was the most popular person in the country [illegible] and everywhere with the idea We had dressed parties and jaunts and taffy pulls and all sorts of merry making and I was right in the middle of it [illegible] wanted to carry me and [illegible] they [illegible] take turns [illegible] I was [illegible] the [illegible] I was right [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] talk with a row of red apples [illegible] and a fine light inside [illegible] suddenly next morning I was thrown away, so to speak Mistress carried me out here and no one has looked at me since Turkey gobbler gets all the attention

"Never mind" said Nick kindly "Perhaps Turkey gobbler has his troubles too the folks besides remembering their heads [illegible] you know why you are forgotten Because Halloween is over and went come another [illegible]

"Nicely Nancy remembered her [illegible] We are searching for Mother Goose's broom she said [illegible] see it Jack O'Lantern?"

"I don't think" began Jack O'Lantern when suddenly he turned [illegible] looks as if I am wearing [illegible] he gasped. Did you suppose my [illegible] kitty can be it"

"IMPRESARIO" IS HEARTILY RECEIVED TUESDAY EVENING

Headed by Percy Hemus, noted American tenor, the troupe of American singers under the direction of William Wade Hull, presented a real musical treat at the Wichita theatre Tuesday night. It was the Impresario, a comic opera by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. Playing to a capacity house the opera was enthusiastically received and the current musical year was opened with a delightful artistic triumph.

The Impresario is light, airy and finely fitted for the theatre. The audience was kept throughout in continuous laughter by the clever comedy and witty dialogue. It was presented without intermission for the action takes places in the salon of the manager of the Kärntner Tor House. Miss Claire Cronin, who was the wife, played the part, singing from the piano in the salon. Mozart's interpretations of Mozart's music was the best and most pleasing feature of the opera.

Mozart has little to do and a light but engaging story of how Schickentanz, the first violin in the Opera House, who falls in love with his nephew, Philip, into taking Dem into his employment for his company. The king, he two persuade him to sing under mistaken identity in a contest in which Dem is the leading lady, Donnas Mill, Lucia Mez, sister in law, Madame.

Percy Hemus as Mozart not only used his splendid voice to advantage but also showed himself an actor of sterling worth. He is a vocalist of recognized superiority and a fine character. Thomas Martin, the tenor of the company, and who took the role of Mozart's pupil, was also such as is seldom seen in the role. His dialogue with the [illegible] and his pleadings with Madame Hofer, his sister in law, delighted the audience with the unusual clarity of utterance and tuneful voice. Bruce Tyler as Philip Schickentanz, Mozart's nephew, was at his best with his clear baritone voice which he used to advantage.

The part of Madame Hofer, Mozart's sister-in law and one of the rival divas was taken by Hazel Huntington who proved herself a capable singer and one of the most charming girls we have heard here in several seasons. Lattice Howell starred as Miss Lulie Phillips, sweetheart. Miss Howell has a voice of surprising melodic sweetness and her numbers so effectively sung called forth much applause from her audience.

The music was melodious and re-

Under the Smith-Hughes act the federal law concerning industrial schools the Wichita Falls night school has organized an industrial department. At present four classes have been installed, auto mechanics, industrial oil chemistry, a class for janitors and a class for carpenters.

For eligibility to these classes the man must follow that special occupation as this department is only to aid men to be more efficient in their work.

The department is held in connection with the regular night school which meets for two hours every other evening in the week and several new teachers have been secured to take charge. They are E. E. Hartman instructor in auto mechanics, E. L. Brown, instructor in oil chemistry and Mr Roberts and Mr Holland who are at present instructing the classes in carpentry.

The department was organized last Friday evening by Mr Martin of A & M college and is similar to the industrial classes of last year.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul, the testimony of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.—Psalm 19 7.

Much as I have seen of the world, of its triumphs of its gaities and of its magnificence I have never for a moment shaken the conviction that the best thing this side of heaven the delight of life its chief consolation indeed the very charm of existence, is in kind affections.—Henry Colman

DISCUSSING SOME POLITICAL LIGHTNING RODS

Since the sweeping democratic victories last week democratic lightning rods are going up from a good many political barns and there is now every indication that there will be a spirited contest for the democratic nomination for president The tidal wave under which the democrats were buried in 1920 has swept back leaving the republican and democratic parties more nearly on an even basis so far as chances for success are concerned In reality the advantage appears with the democrats for theirs is the opportunity for attack without the burden of responsibility The Harding administration lost much of its prestige through the reverses of the recent election and cant be expected to make much headway during the remaining two years of the term It will unless it shows greater strength and leadership, become a liability rather than an asset to the republican party

All this may be unfortunate for the country but favorable to the democratic party and a good many of its favorite sons would like to profit by it by becoming its presidential candidate

Right at the start it would be safe to say that William G McAdoo and James E Cox are candidates Cox says so frankly and McAdoo acts like it. But some way it is hard to believe that either of these will be the nominee Cox's failure in 1920 is against him and one of the reasons he failed was because he did not have the enthusiastic support of a large element in his own party. McAdoo is very popular with the labor element in the party but fails to command the support of some of the conservative leaders A good many folks too have never forgiven McAdoo for resigning as secretary of the treasury and as railroad administrator when the country was in a tight and when the railroads badly needed the services of one who was thoroughly in sympathy with the government's plan of operation

Senator Underwood is another who would doubtless like to have the nomination Senator Underwood is one of the really big men in the senate today He is an experienced, able man and stands for the best traditions of the democratic party But being a southern man is against him Political exigencies are against the nomination of a southern man

Then there are Al Smith, governor-elect of New York and Samuel Ralston, senator-elect of Indiana Either of these men is located rightly from a geographical standpoint both are men of experience and prestige and either is a likely man

There are a number of other democrats who were returned to public office or who were given added prestige in last week's elections who are presidential possibilities As the situation now exists the field is free and open and much will depend upon the records these men make between now and the time for the selection of the candidate It appears that whoever is nominated must be one who is acceptable to former president Woodrow Wilson On Armistice day Mr Wilson made his first address since he was stricken while in the presidency He spoke with much of his old time vigor and force and there is little doubt but that he will again become the leader of the party though of course not as its candidate "We must now clear our minds he wrote Senator Caraway "and purify our hearts to offer to the country in 1924 exactly the service it most needs and the candidate who can best render that service" That is an admirable statement of the duty of the democratic party The "Old Presbyterian" on S street can still see things distinctly and can certainly state them more clearly than any man of his time

WOMEN CANDIDATES UNSUCCESSFUL

Commenting upon the fact that very few women candidates for congress were successful in the recent election and that even Aunt Alice Robertson was defeated for reelection to congress the Houston Herald says:

"It is quite plain to the observing that, despite the granting of suffrage equality sentiment has not yet reached the point of according women equal opportunity in public affairs The disposition to keep the fair sex anstained and unspotted through contact with politics is still manifest And it is to that idea, though unspoken can be assigned the principal reason for their failing efforts at the polls It is certainly not a lack of trust and confidence in their ability to serve as much as it is a desire to keep them free from the polluting influences admittedly found in public life

"On first consideration it might be termed an injustice to woman to open the ballot box to her and then deny her the right or the privilege of holding office It would be an injustice of the rankest sort if it resulted from drawing lines of sex—the mere voting against her because she is a woman. And while that may be true in a sense, the real reason is that American manhood still believes that a woman's place is in her home from whence her influence can radiate and serve a much more wholesome purpose than by holding a public office and actively participating in the affairs of government Men still believe they are doing women a greater service and manifesting greater respect for womanhood generally when they vote against her than they would be removing her from her rightfully established and acknowledged sphere of usefulness—the home

"The coming years may bring about a change in public sentiment in this regard. The time may come when public offices will be more evenly divided between the sexes but it is a long way off Exceptions will be made now and then in localities but these will be isolated instances in which considerations other than political control Some women, of course will feel they are not being treated fairly and be inclined to rebel The woman's political party indicates that But the majority will understand and appreciate the fact that the real reason their political aspirations and ambitions are not given the recognition some of the sex demands is because of the innate chivalry of men toward them and their inborn desire to shield them not only from possible contamination but to relieve them of the additional cares and burdens public duty imposes"

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

PANTRY SHELF LOVE

Love was never meant to be worn upon the sleeve, but the good God reserved an exceptionally big room for it in the heart of every one of us

And this love room is the most important room in the house of the heart—it is the living room"

The tragedy of human life is that most people have filled this great room with anything but love, understanding sympathy beauty and acquired knowledge Selfishness has darkened this royal room

So that what little love remains has been relegated to the pantry shelf—to be passed out only on special occasions, as one would serve tea, formally and only warmed for the time and place

The first language taught to the tiny baby by its mother is that of love

The greatest line in the Bible is this "For God so loved the world— And the only religion that Christ ever pretended to teach or to leave in this world was the religion of love "Love they neighbor as thyself" He knew human nature as no man has ever known it That was the reason why He boldly made His statements He knew that human nature was wrapped in selfishness Love—serve—sell all—give These were His reiterated commands

Love has never once lifted its hand to harm or destroy It has always been the water of life to the thirsty and the bread of strength to the starved

Love is garmented in the richest beauty And wherever it falls it warms and lights up every nook and corner

Why put it back on the pantry shelf, then? Why for use only on set and state' occasions? Why only a commodity?

What a hungry world anyway! How it rustles and bustles trying to get somewhere If only this sad old world could but learn that love would lead it anywhere—happily!

Why not take a walk through that front heart room of yours today? And if the love that ought to be there is shelved in the pantry bring it out Beautify that room anew Let the sun stream in Decorate it with Nature's loveliest flowers—and open the front doors

Give to love its longed for life

THE RICHES OF THE PAST

These are the things you'll laugh at by and by—
The little cares and worries of the day
The time the baby wandered far away
And you were sure she'd walked away to die
You'll tell it over many a happy night
Describing the excitement and the fright

When I was younger you will proudly say
I didn't have a dollar to my name'
Into this town in ragged clothes I came
As green as is the grass to fight my way
And proudly you'll describe to all you meet
Even the patch upon your trousers seat

The past is rich with humor and delight
It is a mine of hardships glorified
Of many a weary day and troubled night
Which chuckling Age recalls with honest pride,
Though it seemed cruel as its price you paid
You'll tell with joy the first mistake you made

These are things you'll laugh at by and by—
The burdens and the terrors of today
For hand in hand goes laughter with the sigh,
And mirth remains when trouble flies away
Cares but a trouser patch at which we'll smile
And proudly boast of in a little while

OLD

The Coue theory of auto suggestion by which many believe they can reshape their lives regardless of age will now please some people

But in Tibet for many centuries people have believed they can become healthy and happy by using an elixir compounded of jewels Of the jewel in the lotus

Are Caucasians also becoming mystic?

DIFFERENT

If We surrender to the degree we feels that civilization is tottering The only way to save the world as we see it is to wipe out the war debts thus saving civilization from bleeding to death under the creditors knife

This smells like a new version of the propaganda to induce America to forgive debts owed to us by Europe

If Wells is right the quickest way for Europe to save itself will be to cancel its internal indebtedness—the money owed by the governments to their people That is different

CATASTROPHES

Suppose our present civilization crashes, to ruins as H G Wells and others predict What then?

Civilizations have decayed into the dust many times in the past And out of the ruins a new and better civilization always rose It's a natural process in the life death life cycle

Maybe the world needs another complete overhauling When it comes to making people really happy write our civilization down as a 98 per cent failure Every one instinctively feels that something is fundamentally wrong with the world That something is the very core of the "civilization" we have developed

CANCER!

Can Be Cured If Caught at the Start, Says Doctor

By DR. JAMES E. RUSH M. D.
Field Officer for the American Society for the Control of Cancer

Much has been said of cancer Much is still to be learned. But everyone should understand that if the disease is detected during the first six months—the crucial state—after its inception cure can be reasonably expected

The great danger from cancer lies in the insidious procrastination in seeking expert medical treatment and in a certain indifference toward the silent danger signals which cancer always shows before it starts in its relentless march of destruction through the body—of progression with only death waiting in the end

Following are some of the more manifest symptoms which everyone should know of and having any of them seek out a reputable physician for advice and treatment

Danger Signals

1 A colored mole which is being constantly irritated This is a highly dangerous condition provocative to cancer if allowed to stand If you have such a mole that is being irritated have a physician look at it

Irritation of any surface of the body is suffered by persons who work with coal tar products

3 Any lump on the female breast

4 Any sore which does not readily heal

5 Any permanent sore about the mouth especially

6 Any abnormal discharge from any orifice of the body particularly if blood tinged

7 Constant pain in the abdomen especially if associated with a desire for meat

The foregoing are some of the more obvious danger signals of cancer There are others to be sure but these are the most common

Here Are "Don'ts"

To avoid cancer, all that science knows is this Avoid irritation of all kinds

Be particularly careful not to drink too hot beverages Don't shave each morning over a cut or mole which opens and bleeds every time the razor touches it

If you have such a condition on your face or elsewhere on your body—go to your physician

Remember that cancer is not communicable or contagious And we all remember that it is not associated with pain during its early stages when treatment can only be successfully instituted

Cancer cannot be cured except by radium, x ray and surgery It cannot be checked by taking medicine internally or by any poultices, mustards or other external applications

Do not massage or permit anyone to massage or strop your face with a razor and run up a bill for treatment is likely to prove fatal

After all don't seek out a quack proprietary medicine vendor who offers a sure cure from the disease at little cost

Triumphs of M. Jonquelle

CHAPTER II

M Jonquelle smiled at the Marquis

But I must be permitted monsieur le marquis to hold my explanation as a sort of wage against the details of your story The Service de la Sureté is filled with admiration for you You must omit no item of the narrative Ah how enchanting Mme Zirtenoff is! Hair like a sunburst of dreams and the figure of a dryad! One would be murder for her

The Marquis laughed

Murder monsieur!

Ah yes! replied the Prefect murder or any lesser crime

The Marquis looked at the Prefect frankly in the face

You believe this robbery could have been committed for a woman

For whom other could jewels be intended? replied Jonquelle

The Marquis continued to regard the Prefect with a certain interest

You mean he said that the reason why the Apache Jean Leguet did not tell what he had done with the necklace was in fact because he had given it to a woman?

The Prefect of police looked at the Marquis with some concern with I fact a certain element of wonder

Why no monsieur that is not the reason at all

The Marquis seemed puzzled

Do you generalize then to no definite purpose?

By no means replied the Prefect of police I would generalize the solution of this mystery and with M le Marquis aid I think I can arrive at it

Mine ami replied the Marquis coldly I believe the mystery has already been concluded I believe its solution seems complete.

Seems repeated the Prefect of police is the word precisely While it is true that the criminal Jean Leguet has confessed before the court and been sentenced to a term of years for the robbery of these jewels the jewels remain to be discovered

He paused and regarded the Marquis with an expression of compliment

We feel at the service de la Sureté that if we could bring to the remaining feature of the matter the same degree of excellent [illegible] that was brought to bear in the final stages by the Marquis de Chantelle we should be able to restore the necklace to the Marquis [illegible] return from London She arrives tomorrow does she not? It seems a trifle time from difficult an undertaking

M Jonquelle smiled

I regret I intrude upon your [illegible] Marquis and [illegible] this the last night of Mme Zirtenoff's [illegible] amazing [illegible] adorable woman I too should lose no moment of her excellence

He paused

But monsieur I cannot sufficiently admire your excellent handling of this matter unless I am quite certain that I have the details of it correct Permit me monsieur to repeat these details and correct me I beg of you If I should present them with an item of inaccuracy I was absent and I have only the memory of informers

The Prefect of police rested his arm on the seat of the box while the Marquis fingered his monocle idly twisted the silk cord He assumed an attitude of careless attention, and M Jonquelle went on

On the night of the 18th of February Monsieur le Marquis opening the door of his apartment at a late hour saw a slip of paper beside the door At the moment the Marquis gave this item no attention It did not impress him It was late, the servants having retired and the Marquis withdrew to his bedroom alone.

It appears however that digressions of the mind occur to all of us even to the Marquis de Chantelle, on the border of dreamland It occurred to him that this slip of paper was a memorandum for the concierge to call the attention of the Marquis upon his arrival to some inquiry that had been made for him The Marquis however did not arise at that hour to verify this impression but in the morning when he awoke he remembered

"One Should Lose No Moment of Her Excellence."

[illegible] for example at the Cafe A[illegible] on the 14th of [illegible] when any [illegible] the underworld of Paris might have been present [illegible] smoke [illegible] the Marquis says he recognized the same [illegible] the conclusion of the story

It is true [illegible] the Marquis [illegible] was [illegible] the necklace to the [illegible]

The Prefect of police made a [illegible]

The Marquis [illegible] the Prefect [illegible] the Marquis [illegible] the Marquis [illegible] explanation

On the evening of the robbery it was his intention to [illegible] the Marquis [illegible] the Marquis [illegible] the Marquis

HEARING ON TEST ON GRAIN FUTURES ACT IS POSTPONED

CHICAGO, Nov. 15—Hearing on the Chicago board of trade's suit to test the constitutionality of the grain future trading regulation act today for a third time was continued. The matter was tentatively set for Friday.

The board in its suit which seeks an injunction restraining enforcement of the act, a temporary stay order having been issued alleges that the act invades state rights over state commerce and seeks to regulate such commerce as interstate commerce.

It is alleged by grain traders here that the new law contains all of the objectionable features of the Capper-Tincher act which was held unconstitutional on May 15 last.

Movement Started To Oust Woolwine Will Not Resign

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15—A dozen clergymen reported to be supporting a movement intended to effect the recall of District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine were expected to appear before the county grand jury today in response to summons issued by Mr Woolwine to explain assertions credited to them that laws were not being enforced.

Mr Woolwine who was defeated as democratic candidate for governor had announced yesterday that he planned to resign. Later however, he said he had changed his mind on learning that a movement was on foot to oust him.

STRONG APPEAL MADE BY EVANGELIST AARON

Taking for his text part of the first second and part of the third verses of the second chapter of the epistle to the Hebrews the evangelist, Rev. J. F. Aaron made one of the strongest appeals to all attending the revival at the First Christian church, corner Fifteenth and Travis streets on last Monday evening that we have ever been permitted to listen to and it was so full of the spirit and the power that we do not see how people can fail to see the truth and try to do things as the word of God tells us to do them.

Beginning by quoting the first part of his text "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard lest at any time we should let them slip." The evangelist said in part: "The Bible lessons we have been studying here from time to time and which so many have voluntary said that they were such great light to so many of us and in fact all who have attended will only be a condemnation to our souls unless we give heed to the light we have gotten and work to bring others into the light of the gospel of our Savior by our daily lives and by constantly urging them to attend the services of God."

Going further into the message he said: "There are those who have been coming here from time to time and have gotten the light and are going to allow some of their children to be lost by not awaking and taking the light as you have gotten it and bringing them to the gospel light."

In closing the evangelist called our especial attention to the last clause in the text. "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation" saying that we would be punished for our neglect and showing how the neglected was one of the classes who would be sent to hell by referring to the scripture which says "And these shall be cast into hell with all the nations that neglect God."

Every Christian who is not attending some other revival in the city is requested to be present and assist in this great work as the effort is interdenominational and every one is welcomed to help in the meeting and asked to feel free to testify or do anything that you may feel impressed to do for the cause of Christ.

DR. C. M. SIMPSON CHIEF SPEAKER AT LIONS CLUB LUNCH

Dr. C. M. Simpson, pastor of the First Methodist church, south told members of the Lions club of the work of the club at his former home in Greenville. Dr. Simpson said he was delighted to come here and find the local club engaged in the same constructive work and expressed his willingness to cooperate in any movement that will help uplift or benefit humanity. He spoke interestingly of his association with the Greenville club and of their work in underwriting a fire department in that city and in other civic enterprises.

Jarrell Cope, with Frank F. Loew at the piano, entertained the club with several violin selections. The applause following each number and the repeated request for some favorite selection were evidence of the club's appreciation.

A report from the committee on the Y. M. C. A. was heard and while no definite plans have been made it is expected that the committee will have a favorable report on its progress in the near future. The club has kept the idea in mind and is still working on some solution of the Y. M. C. A. problem for this city.

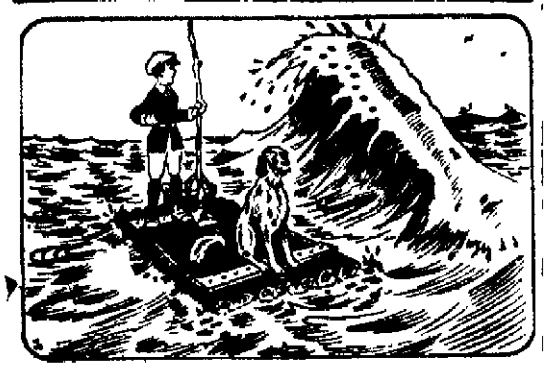
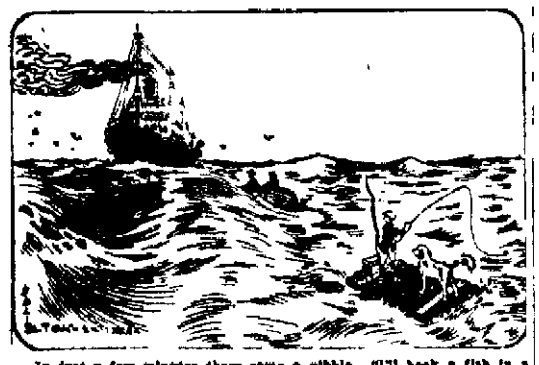
JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

By ELTON



All night long Flip had remained awake and kept watch over his master. It was just at dawn when Jack awoke. He stood up and rubbed his eyes. Then upon looking around, he was somewhat startled. His raft had drifted out of sight of land. "This is a real adventure," thought Jack.

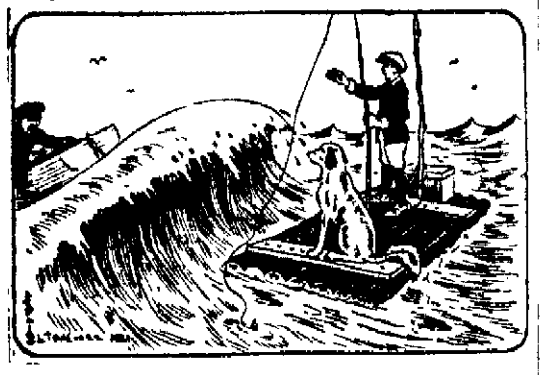
When the usual breakfast hour rolled around Jack grew hungry took a few crackers out of his knapsack and divided them with Flip Suddenly the dog started to bark at the water. Jack looked down and saw a school of fish. He hurriedly grabbed a fish line and threw it in



In just a few minutes there came a nibble. "I'll hook a fish in a jiffy," shouted Jack. Then Flip's barking made him look up. A few hundred yards away was a great ocean boat. Somebody was waving at Jack. And a small boat, with two men in it, was nearing the raft

As the small boat drew up alongside of Jack's raft the little adventurer was doing some fast thinking. "Shall I go aboard the big boat, or shall I stay on my raft?" Jack was asking himself. Then his raft jerked and as the small boat anchored to it. The men smiled at Jack.

"Hello there, young fellow," said one of the men. "What are you doing out here at sea alone?" "Why, I'm bound for a strange land," replied Jack. "You'd better come along with us," said the man. "We'll take you to shore." "No thank you," Jack replied. "I'm satisfied here."



After much arguing the men started away, as the waves were tossing them dangerously about. "You'll be sorry you didn't come aboard the big ship," they shouted to Jack. "Thanks, just the same," he answered, "but I am going to just let the waves take me where they want to." (Continued)

Wichita's basket season ripped open last night at the Legion gymnasium with a pair of contests which savored of keen competition for the coming schedule as an ice breaker the Methodists walloped the Baptists at 12 but the game was far closer than the score indicates the final mill was a terrific battle from starting whistle with the Knights of Columbus leading Texhomas at the close 13-8 after a last minute rally which netted two baskets when Callagan outfought Penrod for position

There were a number of brilliant basketers on the floor last night at least one member of each team showing a brand of court action much credit to the league Callagan was possibly the individual star of the evening The former Penn State looper opened up a bit of play seldom seen in local circles His shooting was excellent, while his ability to manipulate the ball into scoring position established him as valuable The first half of the Texhoma K C game Penrod, former Baylor guard, fought the flashing Callagan to a standstill but toward the close he was unable to maintain the fast pace

Falchney was a tower of strength to the losing quint but he and Penrod could not contribute both the offensive and defensive play

The other contest developed into a scoring contest between members of the Methodist team, with Reed winning signal honors when he fired with seven baskets from the field The Baptists were no match for the fast Methodists but their fight and determination afforded much competition during the play Zandt and Lovelace led the Baptists attack

Although the games were hard fought and there was much fast play, few personal fouls were called by Referee McClain.

The second brace of contests is scheduled for Thursday night when Collier and Landon meets Battery D and Gaines Motor engage the Legion aggregation The games will be called at 7 30 o clock

Many Remarkable Plays Have Transpired in 1922

Football surprises continue to be a weekly occurrence

The defeat of University of Pennsylvania by Alabama was one of the biggest upsets of the season

Georgia Tech had beaten Alabama, 32 to 7, the Navy had beaten Georgia Tech and Penn had beaten the Navy. The Alabama game looked like a setup Penn was defeated 9 to 7

The Nebraska eleven the pride of the west reputed to be the strongest team in the country was defeated by Syracuse 9 to 6 Syracuse had previously been beaten by Pittsburgh and tied by Penn State

Wait for the Breaks.

One of the fundamentals of Harvard's play is to hold the opposition, wait for the break and then grab it with both hands

In the game with Centre college the southerners played risky football on their 20-yard line. On the second play of the game a fumble gave Harvard the ball on Centre's five-yard line On the third play Owen went over for a touchdown in less than a minute of play

That fumble was the break of the game Harvard took advantage of it That fumble and the touchdown it made possible for Harvard must have had a terrific effect on the morale of Centre But for that play Harvard would have had a much harder time winning

In Harvard's game with Florida Churchill on the very first play of the game took the kickoff on Harvard's 12 yard line and ran through the entire Florida team for a touchdown That was the break That play demoralized the Florida team during the greater part of the game

Often the individual performance of some player makes victory possible Such has been the case in a number of games this year

In the game between Syracuse and Nebraska, Right End Thompson of the Nebraska team picked up a fumble and ran 60 yards for a touchdown That play gave Nebraska a 6 to 3 lead and until the final minutes of the game seemed to be the winning play Syracuse finally won 9 to 6

Yale Sub Was Star.

Neidinger third string quarterback of Yale was the star of the Brown game He scored all of Yale's points The first score was the result of a forward pass after receiving a forward pass The second touchdown came after catching a punt and running 75 yards The third marker was the result of a forward pass and run

In the Notre Dame-Indiana game Paul Castner did almost everything possible He did almost from the 40 and forward passes Scored two touchdowns on runs of 70 and 2 yards from scrimmage Intercepted a forward pass and ran 75 yards for another score Kicked three goals from placement after touchdowns Some day

GRIDIRON FEATS OF 1922.

With a majority of the important games to come, some very remarkable runs have already featured the football season of 1922

Long runs after getting the ball from scrimmage receiving or intercepting a forward pass or catching a punt or kickoff provide the big thrill of the game

Here are most of the sensational runs of the year that resulted in touchdowns

Staten Ohio Wesleyan, punt 105 yards

Palmer Northwestern, fumble 102 yards

Sweeney Susquehanna, kickoff 98 yards

Cerney, Notre Dame, kickoff 95 yards

Miller Notre Dame, kickoff 94 yards

Churchill Harvard, kickoff 85 yards

Kirke Michigan, kickoff 85 yards

Keating Trinity, kickoff 85 yards

Cleaves Princeton, intercepted pass 75 yards

Johnston North Carolina scrimmage 78 yards

Tyron Colgate, from punt 75 yards

Gozzila, Lafayette scrimmage 75 yards

Hewitt Pittsburgh intercepted pass 70 yards

Neidinger, Yale received pass, 70 yards

Adams Wesleyan, intercepted pass 70 yards

Crowley, Notre Dame kickoff 70 yards

Neff Bethany, scrimmage 65 yards

Smythe Army, intercepted pass 65 yards

Tyler Tufts intercepted pass 55 yards

Neidinger Yale receiving pass 55 yards

Kirby Rhode Island fumble 55 yards

Neidinger Yale, from punt 52 yards

Manning Princeton, scrimmage 50 yards

Kelly Yale scrimmage 50 yards

Homan Lebanon Valley, fumble 50 yards

Inghis Hobart receiving pass 50 yards

Higgins Tufts intercepted pass 45 yards

Gray Princeton fumble, 45 yards

Gray Princeton intercepted pass 40 yards

Jenkins Harvard intercepted pass 40 yards

HUGGINS MAY QUIT BEFORE '23 SEASON

Job Offered Midget Manager Again But No Assurance Given That He Will Accept

NEW YORK, Nov 15—Despite the fact that Miller Huggins has been reappointed as manager of the New York Yankees the impression prevails that he will not be at the helm when the 1923 season opens

Unquestionably the job is Huggins' if he desires to accept it but those close to the mite manager say it wouldn't surprise them if he stepped down and out before the next campaign.

Had Huggins won the world series he would have probably retired Failure to win the series is one of the things that caused Huggins to again accept the management The leader of the Yankees has plenty of money, but is in poor health and managing a club like the Yankees is far from being a health tonic

To his close friends Huggins had told that he would retire at the close of the 1922 season if his team won the series The poor showing of the Yankees was a keen disappointment to Huggins who really expected to win. That upset has changed his mind about retiring temporarily at least.

Unless sweeping changes are made in the personnel of the Yankees that club is going to be harder than ever to manage next season Huggins realizes this and it may result in a change of mind before the season opens as to again leading the club

The trouble with the Yankees has been due to Babe Ruth being bigger than the manager of the club Ruth practically did as he pleased which made it next to impossible for Huggins to enforce discipline among the other members of the club

Managing the New York Yankees under present conditions is worth a lot of money and it is doubtful if Huggins is getting what it is worth, or has the health to stand it

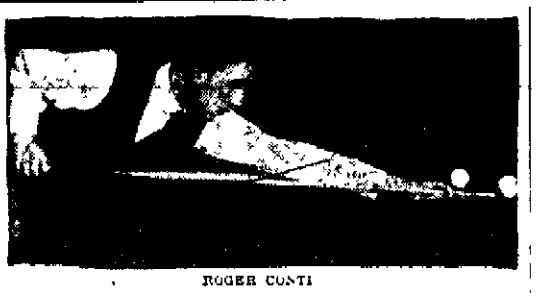
Foreign Champions Seek Billiard Title

EDOUARD HOREMANS

Edouard Horemans the Belgian title holder is one of the most brilliant billiard players in the country when on his game In his matches in this country Horemans has shown to great advantage in all his exhibitions but has not done so well in match play He is a dangerous contender

When Horemans first came to this country seeking a match with Hoppe the manager of the Belgian champion accused Hoppe of dodging the issue Prior to the big tournament in which Schaefer won the title from Hoppe Horemans was given a better chance to win than the present title holder Hoppe very frankly admitted that he regarded Horemans as the most dangerous contender



ROGER CONTI

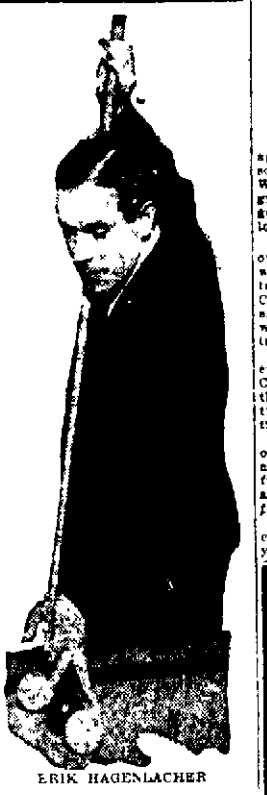
WELKER COCHRAN

Welker Cochran who has usurped Hoppe's title of the Boy Wonder is one of the three American players to contest with the foreign billiard champions in the international tournament to be staged in New York November 13 to 21 Cochran because of his youth is inclined to be a bit erratic when paired with a more experienced player This odd fault has hurt his chances on several occasions He is a brilliant player when right



ERIK HAGENLACHER

Erik Hagenlacher champion of Germany has hopes of landing Schaefer's crown Hagenlacher is playing a fine game at present and is sure to be a formidable opponent for the title The German champion is credited with a run of 168 at 18 2 balkline

"BO" TELLS WHY HE PICKED CENTENARY FOR STARTER

By BO McMILLIN
All America Quarterback

I have been asked many times why I came to Centenary college Some of my friends thought it strange that I did not accept an offer from some of the larger institutions

The first answer to that question comes to our mind is the material consideration and I must admit that it had some influence However that was only a part of it

My first choice was between a career as a coach or as a professional football player I had many flattering offers to take part with professional teams and from a financial viewpoint it might have been more profitable However coaching college teams has always appealed to me and I wanted to try my hand at it

As to the choice of a school There are many things in favor of Centenary that I will not have in the larger institutions

First I preferred a small school because my college days had been spent in such an institution I felt that I would know how to better handle the situation in a school I would be more familiar with the methods used

Preferred Small College

I felt that I would like to know every man in the school and I felt that I would be able to better deal with individuals in a school of this size than in a larger institution where I would have different personalities and different dispositions and I felt I would be able to handle them better by having this information Perhaps my reasoning is not too sound but it is what I felt at the time

When Centenary officials went to the director of athletics and myself with the offer of the job I accepted the offer without hesitation I felt that I could give them a middle western team in several years I felt that I could do it in three years With a good deal of luck we might have a team that would be able to go through the season undefeated

ARMOUR DISCUSSES PACKING INTERESTS WITH U. S. OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON Nov 15—J Ogden Armour head of the Chicago packing house of Armour and company conferred today with officials of the federal government here regarding the status of the industry It was indicated that some announcement of a decision by the packing interests might be expected shortly

Mr Armour [illegible] Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture but neither said discussion concerned a statement issued by the packers that the government was contemplating legislation to place companies and Wilson and company of Armour and company and Morris and company

At the outset Wallace met with officials of the department of justice and the federal trade commission the two federal agencies which would be interested primarily in any plans for a merger that would go as far as known no representative of the packing industry had said any in group appeared before the government

After his talk with Secretary Wallace Mr Armour went to his conference with his advisers at his hotel and in a statement said that he had nothing to say for the present

His visit to Washington aroused much speculation because in view of the fact that reports of a tentative packers merger recently had reached government officials from unofficial sources

Should any plan of amalgamation of the interests be actually formulated it is considered certain that it would be laid before all the interested branches of the federal government before any action was taken

Rowland May Seek Place As Umpire

CHICAGO, Nov 14 — Clarence Rowland former manager of the Chicago White Sox may be a member of the American league staff of umpires next year

This will come as a surprise to the ball players Rowland as a minor leaguer made things hum for the umpires but when he hit the majors the officials slowed him up a little

The position has been tendered Rowland if he wants it like a whirl at the umpiring game President Johnson is willing to give him the chance

President Comiskey surprised the baseball world in 1915 when he announced Clarence Rowland as the manager of the Chicago White Sox Rowland was practically unknown in the major league circles He came to the Sox from Toledo where he had been a successful minor league leader

In 1917 Rowland achieved the distinction of every major league manager winning a pennant in the American league and then capturing the world series He met with only fair success in 1918 severing his connection with the club at the close of the season

Since then Rowland has handled several minor league clubs among them being the Milwaukee and Columbus teams of the American association

Rowland was with Columbus last year but is a free agent Unless he gets a managerial job that appeals to him he will probably take a whirl at the umpire game

THOMAS MARSHALL OUTLINES PURPOSE COAL COMMISSION

DETERMINED TO LAY BARE WHOLE TRUTH ABOUT COAL INDUSTRY

ALSO PLAN TO PROMOTE A FRIENDLIER FEELING

"Organized Self Control" Rather Than Government Procedure Objective

MARSHALL WOULD REPEAL ALL LAWS

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 14.—Thomas R. Marshall, former vice president, who spoke here last night before the Detroit Bankers association, to justify the statement that this democracy of ours only can be called ideal if it be maintained by the organized self control of the people. It is hardly a democracy if large bodies of its people are compelled to do what its government demands at the point of force. Organized self control does not mean that if people do not voluntarily govern themselves, government will cease. Government of some kind will never cease to be among this people, and the existing government if needful will justify itself by force of arms.

I assume that in view of the relations I have to the coal fact finding commission you have more than an idle curiosity to know the attitude of the commission.

It has neither thoughts nor purposes of being awed by influence or bought by gain. Its members have no political fortunes to serve and their private welfare can be affected but slightly by whatever may happen. It entertains no malice, envy or illwill against a soul on earth. It purposes in the finding of facts to begin the investigation under the belief that all the contending forces have a sincere desire to assist in ascertaining the truth about every element entering into and every condition surrounding the business. It does not purpose to be insulting or censorious but it does intend to see that it shall not be treated as though it were a court of law before which parties litigant are appearing each striving to conceal some fact of advantage to the other side and each seeking to cast discredit upon the other. It has been promised, and so far believes that it will receive the honest assistance of both operator and miner in the effort to ascertain the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, hawing to the line, let the chips fall where they may.

Out of assistance of this kind, if it shall be given as the weeks go by and the facts develop, it hopes to promote a friendlier feeling than has heretofore existed between the operator and the miner. This is a great economic question but is more than that—it is a great patriotic question. Of course the inquiry will be valueless unless out of it the real facts can be found and justice may be done peaceably if it can, forcibly if it must. But what an impulse to the lifting high of the standard of the republic it will be if out of it each of these contending forces shall ultimately discover that there is a patriotic side to every business conducted in America, and that they rise to the highest types of American citizens who so adjust their business grievances in accordance with the principle of organized self control as to render unnecessary any governmental interference whatever.

There is a public side to this question. In all our calmer moments when not actuated by greed or hatred no laborer of the republic dare to consider his business as exclusively private in its relations to the welfare of the nation. Democracy spells not alone private ownership—it spells also public welfare and the action of the public in all of its business transactions will have much to do with the ability of the commission to promote a friendlier feeling between the operator and the miner. One of the weaknesses of the large publicity given to American affairs is the proneness of business man of America to form his conclusion either from newspaper rumor or from an isolated fact. The commission hopes and believes that the sober second judgment of the American people is yet sound and that it will always be cast in favor of equity and fair dealing. It hopes therefore that judgment may be suspended on isolated facts and rumors and that the ultimate opinion of the people may be made up from all facts that may be ascertained. But in the meanwhile it hopes that the coal industry may not be singled out although it is the most important one in the land as the only one that the people believe should come to amicable relations through the doctrine of organized self control. It will help much if all other business in life that is not being investigated will investigate itself and begin to apply the principles of democracy to the conduct of trade and business. Perhaps if we preach the golden rule long enough here and there a man may be found who will catch the vision of it as the perfect democracy and will begin to live it.

The coal commission will earnestly strive to evolve not alone a temporary but a permanent peace founded upon justice and equality. It will be patient and long suffering. It will not be suspicious, but on the other hand it has enough skilled men in its membership and in its personnel to know when the truth is and it will not hesitate to hit in the pillory any man who purposely attempts to deceive it. It has friendship and good will, justice and truth for its guiding principles but it will no more hesitate to expose willful falsehood than it will be glad to recognize the truth and if the American people will aid its labors along this line they will be of vast assistance in reaching a possible solution of the question more than that they will unmistakably find that there are many things in their own business that need readjustment along the ideals of the republic.

Time to Face the Facts

"So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that I had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years doctoring with six different doctors without results for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments, I was paid to speak. I was encouraged to try Mayes' Wonderful Remedy, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted. I also was entirely relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all and more than is claimed for it. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—adv.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Trading was very active at the opening of the cotton market today. Price were heavy overnight selling orders around the ring brought in by the decline of late yesterday and further selling seemed to be promoted by uncertainty over the German political situation. First prices were easy at a decline of 15 to 41 points but the trade was a buyer while there was a great deal of covering and fresh commission buying and after selling off to 25.4 at the start January contracts soon rallied to 25.63 or within 12 points of yesterday's closing.

The early rally met renewed realizing for a reaction around noon, January but on reactions to 25.54 the market turned steadier again on trade buying. This sent prices higher and there was a flurry of covering around mid-day with January selling up to 2[illegible] or 2 points above yesterday's closing. There were renewed rumors of an easier spot basis at some eastern belt points but nearly all the advices from the south said holders were refusing to follow the decline in futures.

The advance extended to 2[illegible] for January during the early afternoon or 68 points from the level of the morning and 18 points net higher on continued covering and trade buying. There was a little more realizing at this level but the market was quiet and steady around 7 o'clock and prices held within 9 or 10 points of the best.

Cotton closed firm:

December	26.26	26.19	26.1[illegible]
January	26.07	25.24	26.03
March	26.05	25.25	25.90

July	25.30	24.90	25.2[illegible]

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—Extensive heavy liquidation of long contracts, mixed with new selling, put the cotton market 40 to 53 points down in the first few minutes of the session today. Almost immediately support came out and the trade was credited with supplying most of the buying orders. Prices recovered easily and at the end of the first hour were within four to ten points of yesterday's close. December fell off to 24.80 and recovered to 25.26.

Rumors that private ginning returns were exceedingly bullish and many telegrams from the interior to the effect that spot holders were refusing to meet futures gave the market a very firm tone. Shorts commenced to cover and new buying increased with the result that toward noon December was up to 25.44 with the trading months showing advances over yesterday's close of 14 to 22 points.

Exports from all ports for the day of 4,000 bales were large enough to excite much attention and further buying carried December up to 2[illegible] where the list showed net gains of [illegible] to 3 points in the trading at 1 o'clock.

Cotton closed steady at net gains of 23 to 30 points:

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Notwithstanding a hesitant start, fresh strength quickly developed in the wheat market today. Active buying on the part of those with eastern connections was responsible for the upward swing of values. Uncertainty as to the outcome of the overthrow of the Worth administration in Germany, but differences of opinion were scarce and the market quickly advanced when the German congress. The opening which varied from ½ off to a gain with December $1.1[illegible] to $1.17½ and May $1.1[illegible] to $1.1[illegible] was followed by a moderate sag and then by a sharp general upturn to well above yesterday's final.

May delivery rose to the highest price yet this season but then selling of May and buying of December became a feature and tended somewhat to check the advances. Prices lower at closing strong 1[illegible] to 2½c higher with December $1.18[illegible] to $1.19½ and May $1.1[illegible] to $1.1[illegible].

Corn and oats largely paralleled the action of wheat. After opening 1c to 1½c higher December 1[illegible] to 1½c higher than yesterday's close the corn market underwent a little stiffening and reached initial figures December 1[illegible] being a new high price record for the season.

Subsequently May as well as December gave ground to about the foremost figure the year. July also touched a new high record price for the year. Cash shipping demand from the west and southwest was a bullish factor. The close was unsettled at 1c to 1½c net gain with December [illegible] and May [illegible].

Provisions lacked support and were barely steady. Lower grain prices scored slight gains all around.

STOCKS AND FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Initial prices on the stock exchange were slightly mixed with special shares showing a repetition of yesterday's trading based on sales, especially Consolidated Gas which dropped 4½ points. Profit taking was off 2 points and American Sugar preferred 2½. Advances were in the majority and the entire list moved upward at a rapid pace in sympathy with brisk inquiry for the rails and steel equipment and high grades.

Union Pacific advanced 4. Chicago, Northwestern 3. Pipe lines, Southern Pacific, Texas and Mexican and Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred 1 to 2½. Mobile & Ohio, Erie, Reading, United States Steel, Baldwin and Central Pacific gained 2, with Lima Locomotive and in the miscellaneous list advances of fractions to 1 point were recorded by National Biscuit, Famous Players, American Woolen, May Department Stores and Atlantic Gulf.

Other high prices were exceeded in many instances in the afternoon when the list generally swept upward again under the leadership of high priced industrial shares. National Biscuit soared 9½ points, Standard Oil of New Jersey 6½, National Lead, Standard Oil of California, General Electric and American Can 3 to 4, and Baldwin, United States Steel, Corn Products, American Can and Studebaker 2 to 3½. Coca Cola was a notable exception, yielding over 3 points on large offerings.

The closing was strong. Prices tapered off from the high levels in the final hour when weakness developed in New Haven, Texas Gulf Sulphur and American Tobacco, which [illegible] yesterday's [illegible]. Jersey Central also displayed [illegible]. National [illegible] moved [illegible]. Sales [illegible] shares.

ENOUGH WATER TO FINISH DAM CAUGHT FROM RECENT RAIN

Enough water to finish the storage dam is now on hand at the damsite according to reports Wednesday Although the rain of early this week was not as heavy as some previous ones, the run-off was much greater resulting in about 1½ feet being caught at the dam of the dredge operations

This is sufficient, it is believed to permit the dredge to operate until spring and to complete its share of the construction work Just before the rain came plans were under way to shut down on account of the failing supply of water

As evaporation will be light for the next few months little of the water now stored will be lost

WILLIAM PENN

In 1683 Wm. Penn paid $4.68 per pound for his coffee green and it wasn't very good coffee at that. Then he had to roast it the best way he could. He evidently thought it worth the money and you will admit that "Bill" was a wise guy. If Bill could have bought a pound of "WHO CAN BEAT IT" there's no telling how much coin he would have parted with. The next time you buy coffee ask for "Who Can Beat It." We want you to KNOW how good it is. A Wichita Product.
